

Retail organizations are directly impacted by regulatory requirements such as the PCI Data Security Standard. Since compliance costs less than compromise, utilizing every effective means to achieve compliance is a goal worth achieving.

The PCI DSS compliance can be extensive and expensive; Solutionary is a PCI-approved scanning vendor (ASV) and qualified security assessment company (QSAC) with multiple QSAs on staff delivering PCI compliance services across the country.

But there are other considerations and approaches, such as UTMs and managed security services.

Unified threat management (UTM) refers to an all-inclusive security device that provides broad network protection by combining multiple security features on a single hardware platform.

Solutionary delivers UTM services on the ActiveGuard® Security & Compliance Platform for a complete, turnkey managed security solution tiered for Retail entities with 10, 50 or 100+ user locations.

This comprehensive solution allows small and medium sized retailers to meet industry best practices for security and is ideal for large organizations seeking to address compliance requirements at branch locations.

UTM Complete provides event correlation, log monitoring and device management of UTM appliance. Firewall, VPN, IPS, web content filtering as well as virus, spyware, and spam protection are available.

SOLUTIONARY UNIFIED THREAT MANAGEMENT: INTELLIGENT . SECURITY

The rapid rise in blended threats (Internet viruses attacking the application layer) have greatly contributed to the need for the flexible, highly integrated functionality UTM delivers.

Solutionary's UTM Managed Services provide the following important components for the Retail industry:

- Firewall monitoring
